Get an opportunity to get your horse reacquainted with you and remember what “focus” is all about after a long winter break. We will work on ground skill exercises including lunging for focus and intent, moving hinds, fore quarter, side passing and introducing some obstacles. We will tackle some maneuvers and obstacles while under saddle. We start this clinic from the ground then move onto saddle work. This is an excellent way to get your horse warmed up for the riding season. If you have not had a chance to haul your horse lately and want a change to get out to a different arena, this clinic is a great opportunity for you! We will slowly introduce for detailed and focused concepts and help expand your horizons and knowledge base all in an enjoyable atmosphere!

Saturday May 20th, 2017 10:00 – 4:00

Noon: Short lunch break with Q & A.

Private lesson are available the day before the clinic.

Christy Bourbonnais is a Certified AQHA Professional Horseman, Western Dressage Association Instructor, trainer, competitor, coach. She has a great gentleness to her and a straight forward approach which eases both horse and rider. She breaks down hard concepts and helps you really understand them. It is not about following but about learning. Christy was featured on RFDTV's Sure in the Saddle program. She has been training and showing for over 40 years. Her clinics are well received.

This is always a fun clinic and fills up fast. We only take a small number of participants – so sign up early.

$125.00 for clinic
